

A vibrant, stylized illustration featuring a large green leaf as the central background. In the upper right, a tiger with orange fur and black stripes is depicted, looking down with its paw resting on the leaf. In the lower left, a fox with orange fur and black stripes is shown, looking up. To the left of the leaf, a bird with a white body and black head is perched. The overall style is reminiscent of traditional Indian folk art or children's book illustrations.
