

The background of the cover is white and filled with various floating sweets and candies. These include a green lollipop with a flower-shaped top, a pink heart-shaped candy, a dark chocolate bar, a red star-shaped candy, a small orange dot, a green ring-shaped candy, a purple and blue striped candy, a large purple lollipop with a circular pattern, a green and white striped candy, a blue dot, a watermelon slice, a brown chocolate bar, a rainbow lollipop, a red stick, an orange ring, and several small blue dots. The title 'Rosie's Special Gift' is written in a large, blue, cursive font. Below it, the subtitle 'The Goose Who Laid the Golden Eggs Remixed' is written in a smaller, purple, serif font. At the bottom, there is a red banner with white text. The illustration of the boy and girl is positioned below the subtitle. The boy is on the left, wearing a white t-shirt and holding a small cluster of colorful eggs. The girl is on the right, wearing a green dress and holding a large purple gift box with a blue ribbon bow. Both children have rosy cheeks and are looking towards each other.

ABOUT THE AUTHOR

Connie Colwell Miller is a writer, editor, and instructor who lives in Mankato, Minnesota, with her four children. She has written more than 80 books for young children. She also likes to tell stories to her kids to teach them important life lessons—just like Aesop did in his fables.

ABOUT THE ILLUSTRATOR

Victoria Assanelli was born during the autumn of 1984 in Buenos Aires, Argentina. She spent most of her childhood playing with her grandparents, reading books, and drawing doodles. She began working as an illustrator in 2007, and has illustrated several textbooks and storybooks since.
