

DE FABELS VAN AESOPUS

A watercolor illustration depicting a scene from Aesop's fable 'The Fox and the Goat'. A red fox is shown sleeping peacefully on its side on a rocky ground. Next to it, a brown goat with small horns is also resting its head on the ground, looking towards the fox. Above them is a rustic wooden structure with a roof made of overlapping terracotta tiles. To the right of the animals, there are vibrant, colorful flowers in shades of purple, pink, yellow, and blue. The overall style is soft and painterly. At the bottom left, the word 'Deltas' is written vertically. At the top center, the name 'Patricia Ludlow' is printed. A white grid box at the bottom contains the text 'Creighton University * Carlson Fables Collection 0.25" grid'.

A watercolor illustration of a forest scene. In the foreground, a woman with long brown hair, wearing a purple headscarf and a purple strap over her shoulder, is shown from the chest up, looking towards the right. She is holding a large axe high above her head with her right arm. In the background, a man with a long beard and brown hair, wearing a red vest over a yellow shirt and brown pants, is sitting on the grassy bank of a river. He is smiling and looking towards the woman. The river reflects the scene. The background is filled with trees and foliage in shades of green and yellow.

The background of the page is a watercolor illustration. On the left, there is a tall, fluted classical column. In the center, a large, bright orange sun or moon hangs in a sky of warm yellow and orange tones. On the right, another column is partially visible. At the bottom right, there is a blue ceramic jar with red wavy patterns and a handle. The overall style is soft and painterly.
